MM Docket No. 92-266

To: The Commission

REQUEST FOR LEAVE TO FILE IN EXCESS OF PAGE LIMITATION

Pursuant to FCC Rule §1.3, Time Warner Entertainment Company, L.P. ("Time Warner"), by its attorneys, hereby requests leave to file a petition for reconsideration in the above-captioned proceeding in excess of the Commission's 25-page limit. The Commission's Report and Order in this proceeding and the rules adopted therein are extraordinarily complex, covering a wide range of topics.¹ Given the scope and detail of the Commission's decision, Time Warner simply finds that it cannot adequately address its concerns within 25 pages.

More specifically, the rate regulation decision published and explained in the Commission's Report and Order is critical to ¹It is difficult to understate the importance and complexity of the Commission's Report and Order. Added to this is the sheer volume of the Report and Order; the Commission's report is 356 pages long, the Rules are 37 pages, in addition to dozens of pages of worksheets, benchmark tables, and instructions.

Time Warner's cable operations throughout the country.² Time Warner has made every effort to keep its petition concise and to limit the issues that it addresses. In addition, Time Warner has sought in its petition to put forward arguments and information that may not otherwise be presented. Under the circumstances, Time Warner submits that the Commission should grant its request for leave to exceed the page limitation.

Respectfully submitted,
